Gift from Alumnus Richard Risk Establishes Practicum Endowment

Wednesday, August 31, 2011

Richard B. Risk, Jr.
Class of 2001

TU College of Law Alumnus Richard B. Risk, Jr. (JD '01) recently bestowed a generous gift of $100,000 to the College of Law to establish The Richard B. Risk, Jr. Practicum Endowment Fund. The annual income of this endowment will fund an annual practicum in the College on a variety of subjects, including settlement planning.

Once a structured settlement consultant in the insurance industry, Richard Risk earned his law degree at age 60 so he could fight industry corruption. A national authority on structured settlement law, he creates and administers qualified settlement funds, advises on tax issues relating to settlements, and serves as counsel or expert witness in litigation to secure the rights of injury victims.

Risk is a solo practitioner with the Risk Law Firm.
